BROOKLYN HOME FIRES BURN FOR BOY ROVERS

John Kuck of No. 2784 Fulton Street, Brooklyn, and August P. Hauche of No. 11 Bulwer Place. Brooklyn, fifteen and fourteen years old respectively, are now roughing it somewhere in Chicago, when accord comewhere in Chicago, when according to thoir parents, they should be safety auchored in the quiet of Brooklyn. These adventure seeking boys, who disappeared last Wednesday, are badly needed at home, their parents insist, and promise if they return immed alely they will be received with open arms.

So far as is known, the boys commissary consisted of a Boy Scout outfit and $250 in War Savings Stamps. Thus composed the boys were first to re to threago, according to a letter left for his mather by Haucke, and then they were to four ney to Texas and assimilate something of the wild and woolly which they are sure still prevails there.

The descriptions given by their parents follow:

Kuck is about 5 feet 2 inches tall, weights about 136 pounds, has light hair and light compexion. If he is not attired in his Boy Seout uniform, he will mobably wear a dark gray overcoat a blue acree suit tan shoes gard a plaid cap.

and a plaid cap.
Haucke is about 5 feet 9 inches tall and has brown eyes.

Impressionistic Bits

From the Fashion Salons

I'l' is an enchanted place, newadays, the Fashion Salons, made brilliant by gowns of all the old-time loveliness of pre-war days.

The New Gowns

are arriving every day, gowns with a glad youthfulness about them. Evening gowns that glow with color that we have missed past winters, gowns that glitter with sequine, gleam with brocade and billow with tulle. Afterwith sequins, glearn with broade and billow with tulle. After-toon gowns of shimmering lengths of satin, of tricolet, of silk duvetyn, beautifully embroid-

Of True Turquoise Blue satin is one satin evening gown with just that gay note that characterizes so many of our new gowns.

All of plain shimmering satin it is, with a slim sash-girdle lined with silver, a bit of silver cloth at the V-neck, and with its hem outlined in blue rilk flowers with their petals lined with silver;

Cafe au Lait

Silk duvetyn, of the finest quality imaginable is an after-noon gown made on straight lines with the bodice and sleeves embroidered all over with matching silk braid. It is a gown that makes a fitting complement of loft fors and the aweeping lines of a smart afternoon hat: $175.

"Beige Color and Beige Again"

say the newest afternoon gowns. Not only silk duvetyn, but the tinest tricotine or tricolet or ratin appears in this infinitely smart solor. And, as a rule, when a gown is beige, it just can't help being a little mid-night blue at the same time.

A Strange Little Chinese Frock of midnight blue satin-that is as to slim skirt and long tight sleeves- has a sleeveless over-blouse on chemise

This little blouse supplies the Chinese note. It is of beige tricolet, printed all over with chineserie in midnight blue and thupe and soft green. It has the air of a very self-possessed animated Chinese vase when it is worn, and is as becoming as it is quaint; $78.50.

THESE are a few of the gowns that give the Fastion Salons their new life and colors.

New Hats-Fruits and Flowers

THERE is nothing so utterly beautiful as a wer. The woman who flower. wears a flower-trimmed bat is leaving a wake of joy in her path. Were ever floral hats more beautiful? A poke shape of rough ark blue straw is entirely cover with a lattice of small cornflower buds and ticd around with a blue velvet ribbon.

Henna

A dushing henna-colored hat of lisere straw and Georgette has a cluster of clear tan grapes and big henna-colored roses laid upon one side of the crown.

Torpedo A torpedo-shaped toque of blue rough str., w is encircled with alernate bunches of green grapes and dull red roses. Aflame Huge flat sailors attame with cerise and royal purple are massed with flowers in which these colors blend and melt together. We are to flaunt gay cherry wreaths on shady flat shapes. There is scattely a flower that may not be pressed into service. Prices $16 First floor, Old Building

Batiste Blouses

Are Forerunners of Spring

We have always a welcoming for batiste blouses that come to the Store early in the year. Do the later ones ever look quite so appealing?

There is a sweet little waist in white batiste with bands of colored linen as trimming. The linen is outlined with colored stitchery. Price $8.50.

Two all-white batistes emphasize the prevailing popu-larity of the round neck. One has a round lace inserted yoke. The other has a round knife-pleated frill collar. Both are lavishly pin-tucked back and front. $5.95 and $7, 50. Third floor, Old Building

Do You Sleep Badly?

IF you do, do you know why? After consulting the doctor, taking medicine, stopping smoking at night (if a man), cutting down on your candy (if a woman), eating less, exercising more, putting worry out of your mind, going to bed earlier-and still you do not sleep well, have you ever thought that

The Cause Might Be the Mattress?

"Why didn't you wake me up has a great deal to do with sound sleep?" said a man whom we finally got to try a really good one. (Man-like he blamed us for his blindness.) "Heaven knows I blindness.) "Heaven knows I used to be awake enough at nights, and now I sleep straight through until morning."

Will You Let Us Show You a Good Mattress and explain why it is good, why it will help you to sleep well? You will have to pay $30 to $40, but you pay more for a dress or a suit of clothes that wears out in a season and a good mattress will last at least ten years. Now-in the February Sale you can buy these mattresses $10 to $14 cheat $42 mattresses are selling for $31.50; $56 mattresses for $42.
